This Friday is our first honest-to-goodness, REAL history test! The study guide came home today.

As part of our second grade review, we are identifying nouns in sentences. After your child reads tonight, pick a few sentences out of the book they're reading, and ask them to identify the nouns.

We are working to master our $$ counting skills! Have a few bills and some loose change in your wallet? Let your child practice counting it.

We are learning our 3 and 4 times tables. Car time is a great time to practice these! When you're driving to and from school, to soccer practice, or the store, take a few minutes to practice our times tables.

This week's memory verse >>>
